The acreages are to be diverted from production of feed grains. The current sign-up for the feed grain program ended Friday, March 26.

The chairman released the following county preliminary totals for the sign-up. Conducted at the ASCS County Office for the 1965 diversion program for feed grain:

The money to be spent this year constitutes the seventh step of a nine-step program to complete Camp Shelby as a training post.

At Key Field in Meridian, one officer has been employed as a project officer to direct the aircraft project. Work on the aircraft will be done under civilian contract.

Stennis said he insisted that the money be released because the construction was needed for the completion of facilities for summer training beginning in June. The Secretary of Defense approved the release Thursday.

COLMER BACKS FOR INVESTIGATION OF CAUSES OF VIOLENCE

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Provoked by an attack on Alabama and the South by a Chicago Congressman, Rep. Wm. M. Colmer (D-Miss.) told the House that if it was going to investigate the KKK, it should also investigate the causes of violence.

He also attacked the boycott proposed by Nobel Peace Prize Winner Martin Luther King and the "dangerous doctrine" advocated by him of deciding which laws should be obeyed and which disobeyed.

The Mississippi Representative called the attack in Alabama a "most unfortunate tragedy," but contrasted the way the news media played it up with their handling of the shooting of a young police officer in Forrest County by Negroes last week.

"There will not be any hysteria all over the country about this," Colmer said. "But if a Negro or one of the other Southern States, it makes glaring headlines."

At the suggestion of Rep. Otto E. Passman (D-La.), Colmer said that a fund was being established for the widow and small son of the officer, Constable F. L. Humphrey.

NATIONAL 4-H POULTRY PROGRAM ATTRACTS BOYS AND GIRLS

SPECIAL — Raising chickens is traditional with 4-H youngsters, but the method is not. Members engaged in poultry projects readily adopt new practices recommended by the Cooperative Extension Service and the fast-paced poultry industry.

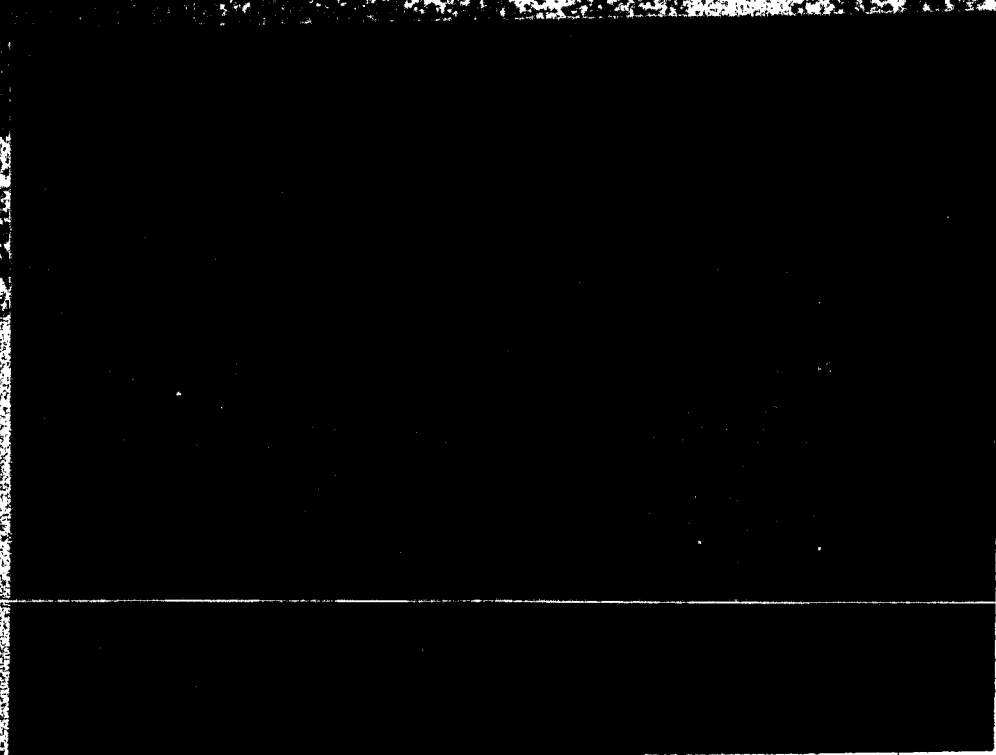

Recently, a selected group of 4-H poultry raisers attended the Junior Poultry and Egg Fact Finding Conference at Kansas City. This afforded the young people an opportunity to hear top men in the industry, learn about jobs available, and view a vast exhibit of automation and scientific practices in use today.

The national 4-H poultry program attracts both boys and girls. Some have family-size flocks while others are producing on a commercial scale. As a matter of fact, a flock of birds is not even necessary to participate. Investigation or experimentation with incubation, genetics or nutrition has attracted 4-H'ers interested in poultry sciences.

A 17-year-old Ohio boy expanded his project from 800 chickens in a two-story barn to more than 4,000 caged layers. He found better management of his flock was necessary, and with the help of his parents, took steps to bring this about.

Another teenager more than doubled the size of his flock by employing new practices learned in his 4-H Club. A girl used her poultry know-how as a junior leader and helped younger members. Along the way, she made more than 90 poultry exhibits and reported a gross income of some $7,000 over a six-year period.

The Ladies Colonels of the Staff met in Jackson recently for their first organizational meeting. Appointed by Governor Paul B. Johnson following his inauguration last year, the Staff is the first in which ladies have been named Colonels. The group will work toward increasing registration of qualified voters in the state. Newly elected officers are: (left to right seated) Mrs. D. C. Lee, Jackson, Vice Chairman in charge of Publicity; Mrs. Reggie Simmons, Daddsville, Chairman; (standing) Mrs. Emmett Thomas, Biloxi, Membership Committee Co-Chairman; Mrs. Cecil Luman, Jackson, Membership Committee Co-Chairman; Mrs. Walter Johnson, Jackson, Entertainment Committee Co-Chairman; Mrs. B. P. Russum, Hattiesburg, Recording Secretary; not pictured: Mrs. Millard Bush, Entertainment Committee Co-Chairman, Jackson.

CHOICE OF TWO WAYS TO CLAIM DEDUCTIONS

Taxpayers have a choice. There are two ways of taking deductions on 1964 Federal income tax returns, Mr. J. G. Martin, Jr., Director of Internal Revenue for the Jackson District, advised today. Itemize your medical expenses, charitable contributions, interest, taxes, and other expenses; or use the standard deduction (either the new minimum standard deduction or the regular 10% standard deduction).

If a taxpayer is a homeowner paying interest and taxes, or if he had unusually large contributions or medical expenses during 1964, his tax may be less by itemizing deductions if they total more than the standard deduction or the minimum standard deduction. If they total less, it is usually better to use the standard deduction or the minimum standard deduction.

Mr. Martin added that where married persons file separate returns both type standard deduction. They should claim the type which is best for them as a unit. The Optional Tax Table, shown in the instructions, must be used to determine the tax on incomes under $5,000 when either the regular or minimum standard deduction is claimed.

Document No. 5107 furnishes more detailed information on this subject is available upon from the Internal Revenue Service.

Star-spangled way to sweeten up your future

The old American proverb says, "money isn't everything, but it sure helps."

And that goes double for the money you put in U.S. Savings Bonds. Because this money helps two ways:

First, it helps your future. Putting youngsters through college, building homes and summer cottages, buying cars for you and the spouse. You dream it, Bonds can deliver it.

Second, it helps your country now, by making Uncle Sam's savings influence in an unmet need.

Your fellow Americans have pooled over 46 billion dollars into U.S. Savings Bonds. Will you join them? There's no other investment anywhere in the world.

Keep freedom in your future with U.S. SAVINGS BONDS
